COUNCIL REOPENS RALEIGH STRIFE

Wood Again Offers Resolution Asking Jake to Get Off the Job.

ROCK CRUSHER IS CAUSE

MATTER OVER WEEK TO GIVE SUPERVISOR SECOND WIND.

For the fourth time in the last three years Jake T. Raleigh is under fire by a member of the city council with the object of forcing his resignation. The latest chapter in the prolonged fight against the street supervisor came up last night at the meeting of the city council in a resolution by Councilman L. J. Wood to call the department chief before the council to show cause why should not be removed. The resolution was laid over for a week, when it is expected that friends of Raleigh will make a fight against institutiong another investigation. The resolution came after the council had done quite a bit of talking in connection with the city's rock crusher, which has been used by H. S. Margetts after orders had been issued by the city that the crusher was to be taken by the supervisor of streets and returned to the city barns. The talk poor was on a report from the streets com-mittee that the lease of Margetts to dig gravel in the hill near Warm Springs be canceled, that the gravel man be forced to clean up the pit at once and get out, and that Jake Raleigh be again instructed to get the city's crusher and motor and take them to the city's barns. It was declared by Councilman Wood that Margetts and the street supervisor had ignored the orders of the city council and should be punished.

The council voted 12 to 2 in favor of canceling the lease with Margetts and ordering him out of the pit, on the ground that he had used more ground than called for in the lease. Council-man Oliver Hodgson changed his vote and will move for a reconsideration next Monday night.

eigh, and H. S. Margetts to lease a plt 200 feet long and to pay the city $500 a year. In addition to this they promise to crush all the stone and keep the pit and grounds in good condition, putting up a bond for $1,000 for the faithful carrying out of the agreement. This was referred to the committee on public grounds and waterways.

CREAT IMPROVEMENT IN METHOD OF TREATING NERVOUS DISORDERS

Results from Use of the Tonic Treat-ment So Remarkable That No Nervous Sufferer Oan Afford to Neglect It.

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is a distinct advance in the treatment of all nervous disorders. It succeeds where other treatments fail because it is based on the sound medi-cal principle that the health of the nerves depends upon pure, red blood. By building and purifying the blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the nerves with the vital elements they need.

The case of Mrs. Elizabeth Shepherd, of No. 1216 Washington street, Kansas City, Mo., is convincing proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure even the most severe nervous diseases. She says: "I am glad to tell of my experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was suffering from partial paralysis of the left side of my face, the trouble beginning with a general breakdown of the ner-vous system. First I had a severe earache which came on very suddenly. My left ear seemed to be held in a vise. There was a prickling sensation throughout my head and left side of my face. My eyes were affected and the left side of my face became partially paralyzed. The pains were very severe. I was weak, could not get a good night's rest and lost in flesh. My circulation was

After a year of suffering, during which time I was occasionally confined to bed for a day or so, I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I received benefit sooner than I hoped for and gained in strength rapidly. The prickling sensations disappeared and I took the pills until cured. I have great faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

M. D. Eubank, for many years a missionary in China, was the next speaker. His subject was, "Men and Missions." In part he said:

China's Awakening.

China's Awakening.

"Some years ago when I first went to China, it was my privilege to visit the old wall of China. It was a wonderful sight to me, for, although of a practical turn of mind, I could not help but dream when I got on top of it. That old wall told me a story of the isolation of the great empire. They had built it to keep outsiders from coming in and to keep their own people from going out. As I gazed in one direction I saw that a part of the wall had been torn down and that a force of Chinese workmen, under the direction of a Chinese engineer, were laying a line of railroad right through that section of the wall. The wall told the story of the old China, but the railroad told the story of the new China. China had awakened and wanted to see what was on the other side.

"At that time I could not help but think of the two missionaries who first went to China and during a period of eleven years succeeded in converting one poor old Chinaman. That was at Fou Chow, and when I later went to that place I was astounded at the wonderful changes that had been made. There were 3,000 communicants in the church and over 40,000 converts. That was four years ago and at the present time there are about 4,000 communicants and 60,000 converts. This is quite a difference between the time the first missionaries worked in that part of the empire.

Movement is Great.

"With regard to this great Laymen's Missionary movement, I say there is nothing like it in history. The motto of this movement is 'the evangelization of the world in this generation. What does that mean? It means that the time has come when the Christian churches have come to see that the will of our Lord should be obeyed. Prior to this time we have not believed, in fact, would have thought that it was pretty much of a dream, in preaching the gospel to the and every blemish on beauty, and define detection. It means that fles detection. It has stood the test of 60 years, and is so harmless we tastelt to be surelt is properly made. Accept no counter feit of similar pame. Because the content of the co tion world there is a population in round numbers of one billion people. We have today in the various fields 13,000 missionaries. Giving to each of these a parish of 25,000 people to evangelize, we today have only provided for 325,000,000 out of the billion, leaving the sum total of 675,000,000 people for which no provision has been made.

"Out of $22,000,000 given for missionary."

At the meeting it was also authorized that the articles of incorporation be filed without delay; that the directors and officers of the co-operative association shall be elected at an early date, and that memberships to the association be solicited, all with the object of "getting to work."

The meeting it was also authorized that the articles of incorporation be filed without delay; that the directors and officers of the co-operative association shall be elected at an early date, of "getting to work."

"Out of $23,000,000 given for missionary work last year, the United States and Canada gave $11,000,000 and Great Britain gave $9,000,000. If there is to be an ingave $9,000,000. If there is to be an increase it must come from the American people largely. For missionary work in America last year we spent about $300,-000,000. While I think that this was perhaps expended all right, still, I think there could have been a readjustment, by which it could have been made to go further. We are only asking that we should have one missionary for every 25,-000 people. We believe that if he is properly equipped he can evangelize that number. In the territory occupied by the American missionaries there are tonight about 600,000,000 people. How many missionaries ought we to have in that district. We ought to have 24,000, which in round numbers would cost an additional $50,000,000.

"If a call should be made for volunteers by the shade of the departed Lincoln, or in the south by the shade of the departed Robert E. Lee, how many volunteers do you think would respond? Armies of men would answer the call. Now, men of America, if this be the case, that the memory of the Lincoln should call forth an army, what is the reason that the risen Christ should not call forth such an army?"

Following the speech by Dr. Eubank, the congregation united in singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Story of Japanese Boy.

"The Call of the Non-Christian World, was the subject of an eloquent closing address, given by George Sherwood Eddy, for thirteen years a missionary in India. Mr. Eddy has maintained himself in India during all that time at his own expense from an income derived from a successful business which he engaged in before he took up missionary work. He said in part: said in part:

"When an American fleet knocked at the door of the Orient many years ago there was a little Japanese boy, Nisa by name, who longed to go to the country from which the big ships came. He stole aboard a vessel as a stowaway and after a tumulture younge in which he after a tumultous voyage, in which he endured the cuffs and kicks of the crew, put him through college. After he had graduated he went to his native land and founded a big university, whose 5,000 students have changed the history of Japan. That all the money spent in missionary work abroad is not lost, but comes back many fold is shown by the fact that recently a big contract for $50,000,000 worth of railroad supplies was given to American firms, although the money had been borrowed from English sources. The Japanese engineers on the work had been anese engineers on the work had been taught in American schools and they were really Yankees in ideas.

"In India there is a great awakening.
In one place shortly before I left I saw one congregation of 1,000 native Christians, one congregation of 1,000 native Christians, many of whom had walked five, ten or fifteen miles to hear the word of God. Christianity means more than you can possibly imagine to these oppessed natives of India. The time was not long ago that they were serfs of the soil; they could be purchased like so many cattle along with the land—$3 for a man and $2 for a woman. When I saw the changes that had occurred as the result of Christian teachings, I felt like saying 'Praise God.'"

In closing his remarks, the speaker made a comparison of the cost of foreign missions with the amount of money spent in America each year for automobile tires, candy, cigars and chewing gum. In each case the figure given for the latter articles was greatly in excess of the amount spent for missionary work. While $11,000,000 is spent for foreign missions, $13,000,000 is spent for chewing gum alone. Other comparisons showed a still greater difference. He made a personal appeal to all those present to do all they could to assist in the foreign missionary work.

Rooming House Proprietress Is Accused of Theft in Warrant Issued Yesterday.

Mrs. Henrietta G. Gentry, proprietress of the Kendall apartments and another rooming house at No. 116 West Fourth South street, was arrested on a warrant last night by Bicycle Policeman Dan Grundvig, charged with the lar-ceny of an electric flatiron, belonging to Mrs. Cora M. Hendricks, formerly of Salt Lake, but now of Denver. When the husband of Mrs. Hendricks, Chad Hendricks, printer, died several weeks ago, his body was taken to Denver, and Mrs. Hendricks went there to live. In taking an inventory of articles she had shipped to Denver, Mrs. Hendricks discovered that she had left the flatiron at Mrs. Gentry's rooming house in West Fourth South street. H. J. McRoy, a friend of Mrs. Hendricks, was asked to get the iron from Mrs. Gentry. The latter refused to surrender it, claiming that Mrs. Hendricks owed her a laundry bill of 90 cents. McRoy offered to pay it if she would surrender the iron, but she refused, and a warrant was sworn to in the city court yesterday afternoon.
